NINJA BOOK REVIEW: How I raised myself from failure to success in selling by Frank Bettger. 4 out of 5 NINJA STARS. Here at Invoice Ninja, when we say that like the classics, we really mean the classics as in sales books from as far back as 1947! The good thing about old sales books is that they celebrate the human side of sales at a time when relationships were made and sustained in person, or at the most distant over the phone.

No one could have imagined how as a child Beverly Engel could have managed to become who she is today an internationally known expert on abuse recovery and the best-selling author of twenty-two self-help books. This is the raw, candid story of how she made her way in the world in spite of her mother's neglect, unreasonable expectations and constant criticism; in spite of being sexually abused, first at four years old and then at nine; and in spite of being raped at twelve. Raising Myself takes readers on a remarkable journey, showing us how Engel, who was basically on her own from the age of four, learned how to cope with a neglectful, narcissistic mother while being surrounded by a cast of characters that included eccentrics and misfits, a religious fanatic, child molesters, rapists, and hoodlums. It is a soul-searching memoir about how she came dangerously close to the edge of becoming a child molester, a criminal, and a suicide, and how she battled her inner demons and struggled to keep her heart open and to reinvent herself so she could follow her dream of making something of herself. Powerfully inspiring and unflinchingly honest, Raising Myself is a story of remarkable resilience and insight.
